Master teacher Brett Manning needs no introduction. Brett is one of the world's most sought after vocal coaches, largely because of his uncanny ability to "see with his ears," and instantly invent exercises that transform voices. Brett's clients have received many vocal awards, including the Doves, the CMA Awards and the Grammys.

Brett works with artists from Capitol, Columbia, Atlantic, Interscope, Dreamworks, Lyric Street, MCA, Epic/Sony, KMG, Word, Embassy, Gotee Records as well as countless independent record labels. Brett has worked with recording artists Miley Cyrus, Taylor Swift, Keith Urban, David Archuleta, John Michael Montgomery as well as New Found Glory and Paper Route. He has also worked with the casts of Broadway productions of Les Miserables and Jekyll and Hyde, as well as the Broadway tour of Elton John's Aida. Brett is the creator of the #1 best selling vocal training product, "Singing Success" and introduced the widely popular SingingSuccessONLINE.com to the voice training community in 2007. In 2008, he appeared on the CMT's "CAN YOU DUET" as a judge alongside Naomi Judd. Brett recently released the long awaited follow-up to Singing Success, called Mastering Mix. It has already garnered acclaim from artists like Hayley Williams of the rock group Paramore.

Brett teaches from his Nashville studio as well as travels around the world giving vocal seminars and workshops. For more information about Brett visit www.brettmanningstudios.com
